PURPOSES

ART. I. The purposes of this organization shall be:

- (a) to enroll in its membership all persons of Italian birth or descent and all others as prescribed in Article 1 of the General Laws;
- (b) to promote national education and secure adequate laws for the benefit of its members by active participation in the political, social and civic life of our communities.
- (c) to encourage the dissemination of Italian culture in the United States and uphold the prestige of the people of Italian heritage in America.
- (d) to initiate and organize movements for patriotic and humanitarian purposes, thereby establishing a motto of "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity."

EMBLEM, MOTTO, COLOR, LANGUAGE, AND OFFICES

ART. II. The emblem of the Order shall be a Golden Lion in a field of white. The motto shall be "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity." The official color of the Order shall be purple. The official language of the Order shall be both English and Italian and each may be used in the course of meetings. (See Art. 114). The Home Office of the Supreme Lodge shall be in the City of New York, State of New York. The Executive Offices of the Supreme Lodge may be designated by the Supreme Council in plenary session.

Wherever in this Constitution or in the General Laws or in the Judicial Code of the Order there appears language denoting the masculine gender, it shall include the feminine gender.

GOVERNANCE

ART. III. The laws of the Order include:

- (b) Any articles of governance adopted by a Grand Lodge which have been approved by the Supreme Lodge,
- (c) Any articles of governance adopted by a Local Lodge under the jurisdiction of a Grand Lodge and which have been approved by the said Grand Lodge or which have been approved by the Supreme Lodge in the case of Local Lodges under the immediate jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge.

GOVERNMENT

ART. IV. The governing powers of the Order shall be vested in three separate and distinct branches: Executive, Legislative and Judicial.

ORGANIC STRUCTURE

ART. V. The organic structure of the Order is based upon a lodge system. The basic unit is the Local Lodge. The Local Lodge is composed of members. The members have rights and obligations which the Local Lodge, by virtue of the powers conferred to it by these laws, administers and controls.

The lodges of the Order shall be known as:

- (a) The Local Lodge.
- (b) The Grand Lodge.
- (c) The Supreme Lodge.

The Local Lodge functions and operates within the limits of its locality. The Local Lodge is chartered by the Supreme Council and is given a name chosen by its members with the approval of the Supreme Council. A number is assigned to each Local Lodge by the Supreme Council in numerical order. The Local Lodge is a constituent part of the Grand Lodge of the State wherein it is located and is subordinate to such Grand Lodge. The Local Lodge participates in the administration of the affairs of the Grand Lodge, to which it is subordinate, through its State Delegates. But the Local Lodge, unless restricted by these laws and by the laws of the Grand Lodge, is autonomous and may administer its affairs under such rules and regulations adopted by it which do not conflict with any of the laws applicable to it.

Whenever a Local Lodge is chartered in a State where no Grand Lodge exists, such Local Lodge shall be under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, or to such Grand Lodge assigned thereto by the Supreme Lodge.

GRAND LODGE

ART. VI. The Grand Lodge is the intermediate unit between the Supreme Lodge and the Local Lodge. The jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge extends within the limits of the State for which it is chartered, unless otherwise authorized by the Supreme Council. The Grand Lodge exercises sole jurisdiction over the Local Lodges within the State for which it is chartered. No Grand Lodge shall be instituted and chartered in any State unless five Local Lodges have been organized in that State, with a total membership of not less than 500; provided, however, that the Supreme Council shall have power to institute and charter a Grand Lodge in a State where the number of Local Lodges is less than five but totaling at least 500 members.

The Grand Lodge is constituted by the State Officers, all past State Presidents, State Delegates elected by the Local Lodges and such other officers as are designated in the laws of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge participates in the administration of the affairs of the Supreme Lodge through its duly elected National Delegates, and those delegates who attend the Supreme Convention as National Delegates ex-officio pursuant to the laws of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge, during the interval between Grand Conventions, functions pursuant to the laws of the Grand Lodge.

SUPREME LODGE

ART. VII. The jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge extends over all Grand Lodges and Local Lodges. The Supreme Lodge is constituted of:

- (a) The National Officers
- (b) The State Presidents
- (c) The Past National Presidents
- (d) The National Delegates
- (e) The elected at large trustees of the Sons of Italy Foundation
- (f) The other delegates created by operation of the General Laws

The Supreme Lodge, during the intervals between Supreme Conventions, functions through its Supreme Council duly elected at its Supreme Convention.

EXECUTIVE POWER

ART. VIII. The executive power, within its respective jurisdiction, shall be exercised by the Supreme Lodge, the Grand Lodge, and the Local Lodge. Between conventions, the executive power of the Supreme Lodge shall be exercised by the Supreme Council, and the executive power of the Grand Lodge shall be exercised by the Grand Council. The executive power of the Local Lodge, when the assembly is not in session, shall be exercised by its Council.

LEGISLATIVE POWER

ART. IX. The legislative power, i.e., the power to make and promulgate laws and to adopt amendments thereto, shall be exercised by:

- (a) The Supreme Lodge, while in session, in matters of general character which are within the scope of its jurisdiction.
- (b) The Grand Lodge, while in session, in all matters affecting the discipline, the control of its institutions, and the government of Local Lodges under its jurisdiction; provided the laws made and promulgated, together with all amendments thereto, are not in conflict with the laws of the Supreme Lodge.
- (c) The Local Lodge, while in session, in all matters concerning the rights and obligations of its members; provided the laws made and promulgated, together with all amendments thereto, are not in conflict with the laws of the Supreme Lodge nor with the laws of the Grand Lodge.
- (d) The legislative power of the Supreme Lodge, of the Grand Lodge, and of the Local Lodge shall not be delegated to any council, nor to any commission or committee.

JUDICIARY POWER

ART. X. The judiciary power, in the application of corrective and disciplinary measures when violations occur, shall be governed by and pursuant to the provisions of the Judicial Code.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

ART. XI. The Constitution of the Supreme Lodge may be amended whenever a proposal is made and notice is given to the National Delegates in advance, the same as is provided for changes of the General Laws herein, and approved by two-thirds (2/3) of the members of the Supreme Convention duly assembled.

The General Laws, Judicial Code and the Ritual of the Supreme Lodge may be amended whenever a majority of the National Delegates and National Officers, in convention assembled, cast their vote in favor of such amendment, provided due notice has been given as hereafter specified.

LAWS OF THE GRAND LODGE AND LOCAL LODGE

ART. XII. The laws of the Grand Lodge and of the Local Lodge consist of rules and regulations adopted by them, in conformity with the laws of the Supreme Lodge, to govern, administer, and control the affairs and institutions under their jurisdiction.

To be valid, the laws adopted by the Grand Lodge must be submitted for approval to the Supreme Council; the laws adopted by the Local Lodge must be submitted for approval to the Grand Council of the Grand Lodge having jurisdiction over such Local Lodge.

To be valid, the laws adopted by the Local Lodge under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge must be submitted for approval to the Supreme Council.

GENERAL LAWS

CHAPTER ONE - MEMBERS

REQUISITES AND QUALIFICATIONS

ART. 1. Admission to membership in the Order shall be restricted to all those of Italian birth or descent; also the spouses of those of Italian lineage or those who have been adopted by persons of Italian lineage, and the spouses of such adopted persons; widows, widowers and divorced spouses of current or former members who by their efforts, works and actions contribute to and promote the culture of the Italian American and the Order Sons of Italy in America.

Applicants for membership shall be at such minimum and maximum ages as the Grand Lodges or the Supreme Lodge may from time to time establish for Local Lodges under their respective jurisdictions. Applications for memberships shall be made upon an official application, signed by the applicant; and this application shall bear the signature of a sponsor, who vouches that the applicant has all of the required qualifications for membership, as provided for in the Constitution and these laws. The membership becomes official upon acceptance by the Local Lodge. The applicant shall be required to pay an application fee and/or initiation fee and dues and/or assessments as the Supreme Lodge or Grand Lodge may from time to time establish for Local Lodges under their respective jurisdiction.

The application must be submitted for a majority vote of the assembly of the Local Lodge and, unless otherwise provided in the laws of the Grand Lodge, subsequently approved by the Grand Council. If an application concerns a Local Lodge under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, then it requires the approval of the Supreme Council. Preliminary approval of the application may be made by the Executive Committee of the Grand Council or by the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council for the Local Lodges under the direct supervision of the Supreme Lodge.

The ceremony of initiation into a Local Lodge shall be in conformity with the Ritual as adopted by the Supreme Lodge, or approved by the Supreme Council.

An applicant cannot be eligible for membership if the applicant's application has failed to receive approval from the Grand Lodge, or the Supreme Lodge, if it concerns a Local Lodge under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge.

A rejected applicant shall not be eligible to reapply for admission to a Local Lodge unless three months have elapsed from the date of such rejection and then only after these General Laws or the laws of the Grand Lodge are fully complied with. The applicant who has been twice rejected by the assembly is ineligible for membership.

CLASSIFICATION

ART. 2. All members of the Order shall be known as "Brothers" or "Sisters." The members shall be divided into the following classes:

- (a) Regular members
- (b) Associate members
- (c) Meritorious members
- (d) Honorary members
- (e) Social members
- (f) At-Large members

“Regular Members” are those members who are of Italian birth or descent; also, the spouses of those of Italian lineage, or those who have been adopted by a person or persons of Italian lineage, and the spouses of such adopted persons; widows, widowers and divorced spouses of current or former members.

The Grand Lodge in its laws may establish rules regulating the benefits payable to regular members.

Applicants who do not qualify for regular membership due to insurance program requirements may be admitted as “Associate Members.” Such associate members shall not participate in the benefits afforded by the Mortuary Fund or Insurance Fund or Life Insurance Program nor share in the economic and material benefits afforded by the Order except those special benefits which may be afforded by the Grand Lodge or Local Lodge.

Applicants for associate membership shall not be admissible as associate members unless the application contains a waiver signed by the applicant, by means of which the applicant waives participation in the benefit afforded by the Mortuary Fund and waives participation in the economic and material benefits afforded by the Order. Such application and waiver must be signed by the applicant and by two witnesses in the presence of whom the signature is affixed. Applicants for associate membership are not required to undergo a medical examination. Upon admission, associate members are to pay such dues as may be fixed by the Grand Lodge or by the Supreme Lodge. Associate members shall otherwise enjoy the rights of regular members and are subject to the same duties of regular members. With respect to associate members, each Grand Lodge may adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable. The Grand Lodge, by its Grand Council, on its own initiative or at the request of a Local Lodge may nominate deserving persons to be “Meritorious Members.” Nomination to meritorious membership is to be followed by an appropriate ceremony at which time the certificate of meritorious membership is to be presented to the nominated person.

The qualifications for nomination to meritorious membership are:

- (a) Distinguished service and exemplary conduct.
- (b) Outstanding service rendered to the Order.
- (c) Conspicuous achievements in cultural, moral, social, economic and scientific fields.

“Honorary Members” are nominated by the National Officers and National Delegates in convention assembled or by the Supreme Council, on its own initiative or at the request of the Grand Council of a Grand Lodge. The names of honorary members are to be inscribed in the Roll of Honor, which consists of a permanent record kept by the Supreme Lodge. To the Roll of Honor, shall likewise be inscribed the names of the Past National Presidents.

Nomination to honorary membership shall be restricted to men and women, distinguished in learning, outstanding in achievement, or conspicuous in cultural attainments, who have given proof of their sympathy and good will toward the Order, its principles and ideals. The nomination to honorary membership shall be evidenced by an appropriate certificate to be presented to the honorary member at the initiation ceremony. The initiation ceremony is to be marked by appropriate solemnity. The presentation of the certificate is to be made by the Supreme Council or by the Grand Council of the Grand Lodge of the State wherein the honorary member resides.

Unless otherwise provided in the laws of the Grand Lodge, “Social Members” are those who because of their national origin are not admitted either as regular or associate members. Social members may participate in social, athletic and cultural activities. Social members shall have the right to vote, but they shall not under any circumstances have the right to hold office in the Order Sons of Italy in America. In addition, per capita taxes must be paid on all social members. Social members shall be entitled to attend and partake in regular or special meetings of the Local Lodge. Social members may be admitted to such benefits as may be provided in the laws of the Grand Lodge.

An “At-Large Member” is a person who is qualified to be a regular member but who, for whatever reason, does not want to attend meetings, hold any kind of office, or belong to a Local Lodge. The At-Large member believes in the ideals and purposes of the Order, is desirous of fostering and promoting those ideals, agrees to abide by the laws of the Grand Lodge and the Supreme Lodge, and agrees to perform the duties of a regular member as set forth in Article 3 of the General Laws. One who is desirous of becoming an At-Large member must become so in the Grand Lodge where he or she resides. If there is no established Grand Lodge at the residence, then and in that event, the prospective At-Large member will be under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge.

Admission to At-Large membership shall be governed by the same rules applicable to regular members except that:

- (a) The membership becomes official upon acceptance by the Grand Council, or by the Supreme Council for At-Large members under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge; provided however, that preliminary approval may be given by the Executive Committee of the Grand Council or the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council for At-Large members under the direct supervision of the Supreme Lodge.
- (b) At-Large members shall be required to pay an application fee and dues and/or assessments as the Supreme Lodge or Grand Lodge may from time to time establish; provided however, that nothing herein shall preclude a Grand Lodge or the Supreme Lodge for At-Large members under its jurisdiction, from imposing an application fee, dues or assessments in amounts different than the amounts imposed on regular members.
- (c) In lieu of the ceremony of initiation, the At-Large member shall execute and have witnessed the oath taken by a regular member, which oath shall be part of the membership application.

(Art. 2 revised 8/14/2013) –cc

NATURE AND CHARACTER

ART. 13. The Local Lodge is the basic unit of the Order. Local Lodges may be organized throughout the United States of America and any other countries, whether directly by the Supreme Council in States where there is not a Grand Lodge or by the Grand Council. ## ADMISSION OF OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

ART. 18. Fraternal societies and other associations may be admitted into the Order only with the consent and approval of the Supreme Council. In case of emergency, the Council, by a majority vote thereof, may appropriate a sum of money, not to exceed $300.00 with which to meet expenses incidental to such emergency; and the appropriation so made shall be reported to the assembly at its next meeting. The Council shall neither have the power to change or modify the deliberations of the assembly nor the power to change or modify the laws of the Local Lodge.

Unless the proposal for the purposes mentioned is inserted in the notice, it cannot be discussed and acted upon at the meeting.

LOANS

ART. 38. The Grand Lodge and Local Lodge are prohibited from making loans to members and to any person whatsoever out of funds possessed by either of them, which are incidental to their purposes. This prohibition shall not preclude the investment of funds constituting the reserve of the Grand Lodge whenever such investments are consistent with the laws of the State. Neither shall this prohibition preclude the Local Lodge from investing its surplus funds in property for its own use; provided that the Grand Council has given approval for the investment of such surplus funds.

ART. 39. The Grand Lodge, without the prior approval of the Supreme Council, and the Local Lodge, without the prior approval of the Grand Council, or where the Local Lodge is under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, without the prior approval of the Supreme Council, are prohibited from obtaining loans from members and other persons for the purpose of meeting the expenses incident to the administration of their affairs in conformity to the laws of the Order. For the purpose of this Article, the word "persons" is meant to include banks, savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, mortgage companies, and other incorporated or unincorporated businesses authorized under their charters to make loans.

DEFAULT

ART. 40. The Local Lodge shall be in default when it has failed to remit the Per Capita Tax to the Grand Lodge at the end of two consecutive quarters of the year. To clarify this Article, the quarter shall commence, as the case may be, January 1st, April 1st, July 1st, or October 1st, and the default shall be effective, as the case may be, six months after any such dates.

The members of the Local Lodge in default with the payment of the Per Capita Tax to the Grand Lodge, shall not suffer the loss of the sick or disability benefits and of the mortuary benefits afforded to them by the Local Lodge; but such members, to the same extent as the Local Lodge, shall be considered as being in default toward the Grand Lodge and suffer the consequences, like the Local Lodge, prescribed by the laws of the Order. Same applies to members of the Local Lodge under direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge.

The notices of default shall be served upon the Local Lodge by the State Financial Secretary by registered mail sent to the last known address of the Local Lodge or such default shall be verbally communicated to the Local Lodge by a representative of the Grand Lodge specially designated for such purpose and present at the meeting of the assembly of the Local Lodge. Same applies to Local Lodges under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge.

SUSPENSION

ART. 41. The Supreme Lodge, when it concerns Local Lodges under its direct and immediate dependence, and the Grand Lodge, when it involves a Local Lodge within its jurisdiction, through the Supreme Council or Grand Council, respectively, may order the Local Lodge suspended when:

- (a) The Local Lodge has failed, within ninety days after notice of such default, to pay the arrearage which induced its default.
- (b) The Local Lodge has knowingly violated the laws of the Order.
- (c) The Local Lodge has tacitly and passively permitted its members, individually or collectively, to defame the Order, its institutions, and its ranking units, or has permitted its members to become indifferent and insubordinate to the laws of the Order.
- (d) The Local Lodge has tacitly and passively permitted its members, individually or collectively, to become affiliated with any publication—newspaper, magazine or periodical—the purpose of which is to defame or to destructively criticize the Order, its ranking units, its institutions or its members.
- (e) The Local Lodge has tacitly and passively permitted its members, individually or collectively, to divulge confidential documents of its assembly or to disclose to the public the possession of confidential documents by the ranking units of the Order.
- (f) The Local Lodge has tacitly and passively permitted its members, individually or collectively, to send letters or circulars to other Local Lodges tending to create factional groups with the Order, or seeking to undermine the prestige and good will of the Order, its ranking units, its institutions, or its members.

ART. 42. When under suspension because of default, the Local Lodge and its members are subject to the consequences prescribed in Article 40, if such Local Lodge is under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge.

When under suspension because of default, the Local Lodge and its members are subject to the consequences prescribed in Article 40, if such Local Lodge is under the direct and immediate dependence of the Supreme Lodge.

The suspension, except as otherwise provided by the laws of the Order, determines and suspends the rights of the Local Lodge and of its members even though such members are otherwise in good standing, except in cases provided by Articles 51 and 82 of these laws.

When requested, the suspended Local Lodge must surrender the Charter, the paraphernalia, and such funds in its possession which it has collected for and on behalf of the Supreme Lodge or the Grand Lodge and of which funds the Supreme or Grand Council, as the case may be, shall be the custodian and administrator. The suspended Local Lodge retains title to all real and personal property acquired by it with funds other than those belonging to the Supreme Lodge or Grand Lodge, and such property shall be held in trust by the Local Lodge or by a Trustee designated by it for the benefit of the members thereof. Any officer or member of the Local Lodge who refuses to surrender the Charter, paraphernalia, and the funds belonging to the Supreme Lodge or to the Grand Lodge upon request of a duly designated representative of the Supreme Council or of the Grand Council, shall be expelled from the Order by order of the Supreme Council or of the Grand Council as the case may be. Such expelled officer or member shall be precluded from re-admission to membership in the Order.

ART. 43. When the Local Lodge rectifies its default by paying all arrearage within ninety days from the date of the order of suspension, it shall automatically be restored to all of its rights and prerogatives. The restoration of the Local Lodge immediately restores its members to good standing.

If the Local Lodge is suspended for failure to observe and comply with disciplinary measures imposed upon it, it shall be restored to all of its rights and prerogatives upon removal of the cause of suspension, provided the Supreme Council or the Grand Council ordering the suspension gives its written approval thereto.

The suspended Local Lodge, in removing the cause of suspension, is to be assisted by a duly designated representative of the Supreme Lodge or of the Grand Lodge.

DISSOLUTION

ART. 44. The Local Lodge which has failed to remove the cause of suspension in the manner provided by Article 43 shall be ordered dissolved provided nothing to the contrary is provided by public law or by the rules and regulations of the supervisory public authorities governing the Grand Lodge having jurisdiction over the Local Lodge concerned.

In case a Local Lodge attempts to secede or withdraw from the Order, the secession or withdrawal shall be ineffectual so long as no less than three members of the Local Lodge remain loyal to the Order and oppose such secession or withdrawal, and the Local Lodge remains a part of the Order for all purposes. The property, funds, and paraphernalia shall be and remain the property of the Local Lodge, and all of the members who attempted to have the Local Lodge secede or withdraw from the Order shall forfeit and lose all right, title and interest in and to the property, funds and paraphernalia belonging to such Local Lodge; provided nothing to the contrary is provided by public law or by the rules and regulations of the supervisory public authorities governing the Grand Lodge having jurisdiction of the Local Lodge concerned.

The order of dissolution of a Local Lodge shall be issued by the Supreme Council on its own initiative when it concerns a Local Lodge under its direct and immediate dependence, or by the Grand Council, on its own initiative, when it concerns a Local Lodge under its jurisdiction.

When the membership of a Local Lodge decreases to less than the number fixed by the Grand Lodge or, where the Local Lodge is under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, the membership decreases to less than the number fixed by the Supreme Lodge, it may be ordered dissolved, unless within six months from the date of such decrease, it shall enroll new members which will raise the membership of such Local Lodge above the minimum number required. While the membership remains below the minimum figures, the Local Lodge loses its representation to the Grand Convention.

All the property of the dissolved Local Lodge, namely: The Charter, paraphernalia, and funds in its possession, including real and personal property, except for funds due the Supreme Lodge or the Grand Lodge, shall be taken into custody and administered by the Supreme Council or by the Grand Council, as the case may be. In case the dissolved Local Lodge is reorganized, then the Charter, paraphernalia, funds and property taken into custody, less expenses of administration, shall be returned to the reorganized Local Lodge. In the event the dissolved Local Lodge is not reorganized within six months from the date of the order of dissolution, but at the expiration of such period a substantial group of its members, in good standing at the time the cause of dissolution arose, become members of another Local Lodge, the Supreme Council or the Grand Council shall turn over to such other Local Lodge all the property and funds, less expenses of administration. In all other cases, the Grand or Supreme Lodge will dispose of the property and funds in question for the best interests of the Order. At no time may a Grand or Supreme Council appropriate for the Grand or Supreme Lodge, property or funds of a Local Lodge — except as provided in these laws.

The members of the Local Lodge, dissolved by reason of default or by reason of having failed to increase its membership above the required minimum, shall be considered as though they had resigned from membership in the dissolved Local Lodge; but such members, if members in good standing of another Local Lodge, shall not lose any of their rights and privileges as members of such other Local Lodge.

The members of the Local Lodge, dissolved for reasons of discipline or for failure to rectify the cause of suspension, if implicated in the violation causing such dissolution, shall be considered as expelled from the Order and their names stricken from the roll of the Local Lodge. The members of the dissolved Local Lodge, not implicated in the violation causing such dissolution, may join a Local Lodge of their own choice or join a Local Lodge designated by the Supreme Lodge or by the Grand Lodge; provided that, in such instance, a Transfer Card be first obtained in conformity to the laws of the Order.

REINSTATEMENT

ART. 45. The Supreme Council or Grand Council may reorganize a dissolved Local Lodge by conforming with the requirements for formation of a new Local Lodge.

MERGER

ART. 46. The merger of two or more Local Lodges may be effected through the consent and under the direction of the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council, where the Local Lodges concerned are under the direct and immediate dependence of the Supreme Lodge, or through the consent and under the direction of the Grand Council, if the Local Lodges concerned are under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge.

In case of merger, the Supreme Council or the Grand Council shall designate a representative of the Supreme Lodge or of the Grand Lodge to supervise the merger of the Local Lodges. It shall be the duty of the representative, designated by virtue of this Article, to see that a proper merger agreement is entered into between the Local Lodges concerned, and that the respective properties and funds are pooled together and proper instruments of conveyance are executed and delivered. After this, the representative will proceed to the election and installation of the officers of the Council. Following the installation, the representative shall present the new Charter to the merged Local Lodge, which Charter will bear the name chosen and the number of the oldest Local Lodge included in the merger. The merged Local Lodge shall assume and be responsible for the obligations of the merging Local Lodges. Merger of Local Lodges may be decreed by the Grand or Supreme Council in cases where it is deemed necessary for the good of the Order.

The Grand Council, for Local Lodges under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, or the Supreme Council, for Local Lodges under the direct jurisdiction of the Supreme Lodge, may order and direct the merger of any Local Lodge when the membership falls below the minimum numbers as described in Article 44.

The Grand Lodge which permits its membership to decrease to less than 500 members, shall, if within two years after the date of notice it does not restore its membership above the required minimum, be dissolved. Upon the order of dissolution being issued by the Supreme Council, the Local Lodges under the jurisdiction of the dissolved Grand Lodge shall immediately pass and be under the direct and immediate dependence of the Supreme Lodge, unless the Supreme Council, in its discretion, may otherwise determine.

To institute the Grand Lodge, it shall be necessary:

The Grand Council has the power to issue orders and decrees in case of necessity in matters not otherwise provided for under the laws of the Order; provided no order or decree shall impose new dues or assessments; and provided further that it shall not annul any law of the Order imposing such dues or assessments.

The orders or decrees of the Grand Council go into effect immediately upon adoption. All such orders or decrees adopted by the Grand Council during the interval between Grand Conventions shall be submitted to the next Grand Convention for ratification by the Grand Lodge. The failure to so ratify these orders or decrees shall not nullify their effect retroactively, but such action will put an end to the orders or decrees as of that date.

The Grand Council shall be elected at the biennial Grand Convention of the Grand Lodge and its term of office is two years and until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

Only duly elected State Delegates, State Officers, and Presidents of Grand Lodge Commissions, who have indicated their availability, may be elected or re-elected to the Grand Council.

The Grand Council shall meet in regular session at such intervals as the laws of the Grand Lodge require. It may meet in special session whenever the meeting is called by the State President or called at the written request of five State Officers. In the event that the Special Session is called at the written request of five (5) State Officers, they shall sign their names to the notice and set forth with specificity the reason for the Special Session and that the State President refused to either call a Special or Regular meeting of the Grand Council.

The Mortuary Fund and/or Benefit Insurance System may be administered by a commission or board of directors elected by the Grand Convention or appointed by the Grand Council, if the laws of the Grand Lodge so provide. The commission or board of directors shall be under the supervision and control of the Grand Council.

The Mortuary Fund and/or Benefit Insurance System established by the Grand Lodge may be administered directly by the Grand Council, if the laws of the Grand Lodge so provide.

Nothing in these laws shall preclude the Grand Lodge from establishing and instituting orphanages, homes for the aged, mutual aid funds, and other similar institutions. If any such institutions are established and instituted, commissions or boards of directors therefor are to be selected by the Grand Lodge at its biennial Grand Convention or are to be appointed by the Grand Council whenever the laws of the Grand Lodge so provide. The notice must specify the hour of the first and second convocation. Moreover, the notice must be accompanied by the Order of Business to be transacted during the session, and it shall include also the copy of all the amendments to the laws of the Grand Lodge proposed by the Grand Council.

If a majority of the State Officers and State Delegates having the right to vote are present at the first convocation of the Grand Convention, the session may be legally opened. The suspended Grand Council, however, shall continue in office solely for the purpose of administering the ordinary affairs of the Grand Lodge until further action may be taken by the Supreme Council or by the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council.

If the suspended Grand Council fails to make adjustment of the default which determined its suspension within six months from the date of the communication of suspension, it may be ordered dissolved by the Supreme Council or by the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council; provided the order of dissolution be adopted at a regular or special meeting of the Supreme Council or at a regular or special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council.

The dissolved Grand Council, which has failed to make the adjustment of the default which determined its dissolution by the Supreme Council or by the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council, ceases to exist and its functions, including its power and prerogatives are taken over by a Special National Deputy.

When a Special National Deputy takes over the functions of the Grand Council, it shall be the Special National Deputy's duty to call a Special Grand Convention for the purpose of electing a new Grand Council to transact such other business as may be pertinent to the adjustment of the default. Any member of the Grand Council who participated in the failure to make adjustment of the default, which determined its dissolution, shall be barred from election to the new Grand Council under this Article; provided such member has been found to be a participant in such failure by the Supreme Council at the time the order of dissolution was adopted.

ART. 71. Whenever the Grand Lodge is in default with its payments to the Supreme Lodge as required by the laws of the Order or the Grand Lodge tacitly and passively permits any of the violations enumerated in Article 70 of these laws, the Supreme Council may suspend it provided the declaration or suspension be approved at a regular or special meeting of the Supreme Council while in plenary session.

If the Grand Lodge fails to adjust the default or to correct and remove the cause of its suspension within six months after the adoption of the declaration of suspension by the Supreme Council, it may be ordered dissolved by the Supreme Council; provided the order of dissolution be adopted at a regular or special meeting of the Supreme Council or at a regular or special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council.

When the Grand Council is suspended under the provision of this Article, all of the organs and institutions enumerated in Article 48 of these laws are suspended also, provided, however, that all State Officers and members of the various organs and institutions continue in office solely for the purpose of administering the ordinary affairs of the Grand Lodge and of its institutions under the direct supervision and control of the Supreme Council.

Within thirty days from the date of the declaration of suspension of the Grand Lodge, the Supreme Council shall call a meeting of all the State Delegates of the suspended Grand Lodge, within the territorial limits of such Grand Lodge, for the purpose of adjusting the default or for the purpose of correcting and removing the cause of the suspension. The meeting of the State Delegates called under the provision of this Article shall be presided over by a Special National Deputy, unless otherwise determined by the Supreme Council.

As soon as the default has been adjusted or the cause of suspension has been corrected and removed, the Supreme Council shall order the suspension lifted and the Grand Lodge and its institutions restored to good standing.

If the State Delegates called under the provisions of this Article fail to take appropriate action to adjust the default or to correct and remove the cause of suspension within six months from the date of the declaration of suspension by the Supreme Council, the Supreme Council may order the Grand Lodge dissolved and remove and repossess its Charter. Upon issuing the order of dissolution of the Grand Lodge, all of the Local Lodges under its jurisdiction automatically pass under the supervision and control of the Supreme Council; provided nothing to the contrary is provided by public law and by rules and regulations of the supervisory public authorities governing such institutions within the territorial limits of the dissolved Grand Lodge.

In the interim between the date of dissolution of the Grand Lodge and the date of its reconstruction, the Supreme Council shall assume control over all the assets of the dissolved Grand Lodge, which assets shall include money and real and personal property, and administer them as a trustee for the use and benefit of the members of the Local Lodges under the jurisdiction of the dissolved Grand Lodge and for the use and benefit of the creditors of such Grand Lodge; provided the public law and the rules and regulations of the supervisory public authorities governing the dissolved Grand Lodge and its institutions, in whole or in part, do not provide otherwise. When the Grand Lodge is reconstituted in conformity with these laws, the Supreme Council shall give a true and correct account of its acts and doings and of its receipts and disbursements relative to the administration of the assets of the dissolved Grand Lodge at the session of the Grand Convention called for the purpose of reconstituting such Grand Lodge.

The members of the Grand Council, the members of institutions and the State Delegates implicated in the default or in the cause for which the Grand Lodge was ordered dissolved, shall be barred from election or from appointment to any office of the reconstituted Grand Lodge or its institutions for a period of no less than two years. The penalty imposed by this Article shall be without prejudice to the right of the Supreme Council to denounce or cause to be denounced those implicated in causing the dissolution of the Grand Lodge to the Supreme Lodge Arbitration Commission to be dealt with in accordance with the judiciary laws of the Order.

RECONSTITUTION

ART. 72. Once the Grand Lodge has been dissolved, it must be reconstituted in order to function. Before sixty days have elapsed from the date of the adoption of the order of dissolution, the Supreme Council shall request that State Delegates be elected by the Local Lodges under the jurisdiction of the dissolved Grand Lodge. The number of State Delegates is to be determined in the manner provided by the laws of the dissolved Grand Lodge. After the State Delegates have been elected in compliance with the request of the Supreme Council, they shall be convened in a Special Grand Convention on the date and place fixed by the Supreme Council or by the Executive Committee of the Supreme Council, provided the place of meeting shall be within the territorial limits of the dissolved Grand Lodge. The purpose of the Special Grand Convention shall be the reconstitution of the Grand Lodge and a general election to replace the Grand Council and to replace the elective members of the organs and institutions of the Grand Lodge which may have been dissolved. The Special Grand Convention is to be presided over by a Special National Deputy. The State Delegates, the State Officers, the members of the organs and institutions, the committees and commissions elected or appointed under the provision of this Article shall hold office until the next regular Grand Convention of the reconstituted Grand Lodge. The dissolved Grand Lodge is to be considered as being duly reconstituted upon the installation of its newly elected officers.

MEETINGS

ART. 99. The Supreme Lodge shall hold its Supreme Convention once every two years during the months of August or September at the place previously designated by the preceding regular Supreme Convention. The duration of the Convention is to be fixed by the Supreme Council with due regard to the good of the Order and to the order of the day. The Grand Lodge President in the State where the National Convention is to be held shall be a member of the National Convention Committee.

If the Supreme Council fails to convene the Supreme Convention within two years and at the time required by the laws of the Order, the members of the Supreme Council at fault shall be considered as dismissed from office as of the last day of the month during which such convention was to have been convened. This Article shall not effect the dismissal of the officers of the Supreme Council who were not called at which the convocation of the Convention should have been determined. When the officers of the Supreme Council shall have been dismissed pursuant to this Article, the powers and prerogatives of the Supreme Council shall rest in the State Presidents of the Grand Lodges. Thereafter the State Presidents of those Grand Lodges in good standing shall be called to a meeting to determine upon the convocation of the Supreme Convention. If the convocation of the Convention is determined, the State Presidents shall order the convocation of the Supreme Convention in like manner as though it has been convoked by the Supreme Council.

The Supreme Lodge meets in Special Supreme Convention at the place and date previously fixed by the Supreme Council, when such meeting is called by the Supreme Council while in plenary session; provided an absolute majority of the votes are cast for such Special Supreme Convention, or by written request of a majority of the National Delegates duly qualified to vote; provided the majority of National Delegates requesting such meeting are members of Grand Lodges which are in good standing with the Supreme Lodge.

Moreover, there shall be an interval of at least three hours between the first convocation and the second convocation of the Supreme Convention.

When a special session of the Supreme Lodge is called, the notice calling the Special Supreme Convention into session shall be sent no less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date fixed for the first convocation. The notice must be accompanied by the Orders of the Day, setting forth the purpose for which the session is convened.

If a majority of the National Officers and National Delegates having the right to vote be present at the first convocation of the Regular or Special Supreme Convention, the session may be legally opened. When the second convocation is made, the session shall be legal for all purposes regardless of the number of National Officers and National Delegates present.

After the Supreme Convention has been called to order, the session must be opened, conducted and closed in conformity with the provisions of the Ritual. To facilitate the dispatch of the business of the Supreme Lodge, the assembly may adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to the proper consideration of the Orders of the Day; provided the following rules are observed:

- (a) No motion shall be discussed and voted upon unless it has been duly seconded and such motion has been announced by the presiding officer.
- (b) No other motion shall be made, while there is a motion pending before the assembly, except a motion to adjourn, a call for order, or a motion to determine the priority of discussions on pending proposals.

- (c) No motion to reconsider shall be entertained unless it is made by a person who voted in favor of the adopted motion and seconded by a person who voted in favor of such adopted motion.
  - (d) Whenever objection is made to the reading of any document, the objection must be stated in form of a motion to be voted on without discussion.
  - (e) Whenever a motion is made to limit discussion on any motion, or to adjourn, such motion shall be put to a vote, if seconded, without discussion.
  - (f) Whenever a motion on a point of law or a motion on a point of order is made, such motion, if seconded, must be put to an immediate vote by the assembly without discussion.
  - (g) The decision rendered by the presiding officer on all motions for order shall be final, except for the right to appeal to the assembly. If an appeal is taken, the presiding officer who rendered the ruling must leave the chair and the officer next in line be substituted in his place. Thereafter, the presiding officer who rendered the ruling and the appellant may take the floor and present reasons and explanations in favor or against the ruling rendered. Upon termination of the discussion, the assembly shall vote on the ruling and either affirm or reject it.
  - (h) The business of the Supreme Convention is to be transacted in conformity with the laws of the Order, the Ritual and under the forms of Parliamentary Procedure as prescribed in Roberts' Rules of Order. In case of conflict between the laws of the Order and Roberts' Rules, the laws of the Order shall prevail.
  - (i) Minutes of the Supreme Convention shall be made available to all members of the Supreme Council, members of the Sons of Italy Foundation and members of the Commission for Social Justice within sixty (60) days after the conclusion of the convention.

INCOMPATIBILITY OF OFFICE

ART. 105. It is the policy of the Order to spread the offices in the Order among the greatest possible number of members. To effect this policy no member shall be allowed to occupy offices which are incompatible. However, a Grand Council may authorize Local Lodges under its jurisdiction to temporarily assign the duties of a vacant office to another officer of the Local Lodge Council, except for the combination of the duties of Financial Secretary and Treasurer. With the exception of the offices of the Immediate Past President of the ranking units of the Order, the following offices shall be considered incompatible:

- (a) To be a member of the Arbitration Commission of the Local Lodge, of the Grand Lodge Arbitration Commission, and of the Supreme Lodge Arbitration Commission, or of any two units, at one and the same time.
- (b) To be an officer of the Council of the Local Lodge, of the Grand Lodge, and of the Supreme Lodge, or of any units herein, at one and the same time.

Whenever the Recording Secretary shall be disqualified to function as clerk under this section the Recording Secretary is to be substituted by another member of the Council of such unit appointed by the highest ranking officer thereof.
- (m) To permit the Orator of any ranking unit of the Order to serve as a member of any Arbitration Commission.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

ART. 106. The elected officers of the Order begin their term and assume their office upon installation. Immediately thereafter, they perform the duties and exercise the prerogatives of their respective offices. The elected officers of the Grand Lodge and of the Supreme Lodge are installed into office before the close of the Convention. In case an elected officer is absent during the installation ceremony, such officer shall be installed by the Grand Council, if a State Officer, and by the Supreme Council, if a National Officer.

The elected State Officers are to be installed by a National Officer, if present, or by a Special National Deputy, if present, or by the former State President; the elected National Officers are to be installed by a former National President.

- (c) All National Officers shall be eligible to serve two consecutive terms in the same position.

The term of office of appointed members of institutions and commissions shall run for the same period as that of the Council of the unit which appointed them; provided that in no case shall such term last beyond the expiration date of the term of such Council, unless otherwise provided in the laws of the Order or by public law governing such commissions and institutions.

Whenever the President of any ranking unit of the Order, for just cause, resigns his office, the resignation shall be without prejudice to his right to assume the office of Immediate Past President; provided he has served at least one full term as President immediately before his resignation. The purpose of this Article is to give the resigning President precedence in the occupancy of the office of Immediate Past President, though such office be occupied at the time of resignation.

(Art. 107 revised 8/11/2007, reversed 8/9/2011 due to admin defect) –cc

FORFEITURE OF OFFICE

(b) The appointed officers of the ranking units of the Order shall forfeit their office when without justifiable cause as determined by their appointing authority they fail to attend three (3) consecutive meetings of the institution or commission, if members thereof.

(c) The State and National Delegates who fail to tender a notice of resignation, or fail to submit such a notice within ample time to permit substitution by alternates, or are absent from participation in the Convention, provided such absence is not due to circumstances beyond their control shall forfeit their office. Absence due to usual occupation shall in no case be a sufficient excuse.

ELECTIONS

ART. 109. Voting in general and special elections shall be by written or printed ballot for all offices, and shall be held during the month specified in the laws of the Order; unless otherwise provided in the laws of the Grand Lodge or of the Local Lodge. By unanimous consent however, a speedier method of voting may be adopted.

General and special elections of any of the ranking units of the Order are to be included in the orders of the day of the meeting in which they are to be held. The notice of the meeting in which a general or special election is to be held must be sent out no less than five days prior to the date of such meeting. The election, general or special, is to be conducted under the supervision of the Electoral Board. The Electoral Board is composed of one President and four members appointed by the presiding officer of the assembly. The Electoral Board has the following duties:

(a) To distribute ballots among those present and qualified to vote.

(b) To count those present and ascertain that the number of those present and voting corresponds to the number of ballots found in the ballot box.

(c) To count the votes, excluding those ballots which are unmarked and segregating those that, in the opinion of the Board, may be void or contestable.

(d) To detect and declare void ballots which bear special marks and reveal the identity of the voter.

(e) To evaluate the vote for each candidate voted for each office.

(f) To supervise the election to the end that the secrecy of the ballot may be preserved and no fraud takes place in the balloting.

(g) To decide controversial questions arising during the course of the election, which decisions may be appealed within 10 days to the higher ranking council.

After the ballots have been counted and the votes tabulated, the President of the Electoral Board shall announce:

(h) The election of one of two candidates who has received the absolute majority of the votes lawfully cast.

- (i) The new balloting after the original vote is taken and no one of the candidates voted for received an absolute majority of the votes cast; provided the new balloting be confined to the two candidates who received the highest vote short of an absolute majority.
- (j) The election of a candidate who was unopposed.
- (k) The election, in case of a tie vote, of the candidate whose continuous membership in the Order is the longest.

Whenever the assembly so deliberates, the election of officers and of State and National Delegates may be effective if the candidates receive a relative majority of the votes cast for each office.

When more than one officer must be elected to a given office, the ballot which contains more votes than the number of officers which must be elected to that office, shall be null and void; provided, however, a ballot rendered void hereunder for a particular office shall be valid as to any other office listed thereon if it otherwise conforms to law.

The names of the candidates must be listed on the ballot in the order of their drawings, by the National Recording Secretary, under the supervision of the Electoral Board and the candidates, or the designee of the candidate.

All elections held or conducted in contravention of the laws of the Order shall be considered null and void and of no effect. When protest of violation of the laws of the Order or protest of irregularities noted in the conduct of the election is made to the Electoral Board, the Board shall render an immediate opinion, following investigation, on the merit of the protest. The ruling rendered by the Electoral Board shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting before the name of the candidate elected is announced by the President of the Electoral Board. If a person making the protest is dissatisfied with the ruling rendered by the Electoral Board, the protest shall be submitted for determination to the Council of the higher ranking unit of the Order. When the Grand or the Supreme Council, as the case may be, renders a decision upon the protest, such decision shall be conclusive and not subject to appeal or review. But if the person making the protest is dissatisfied with the ruling rendered by the Electoral Board in cases where the election of National Officers is involved, the merit of the protest shall be decided by the Supreme Convention in the course of the meeting during which the protest was made.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW

ART. 110. An erroneous application of the Laws of the Order by a Local Lodge, its Council, or its officers, or by a Grand Lodge, its Council or its officers can be appealed to the Council of the next higher ranking unit for Administrative Review.

Within ten (10) days from the date of an alleged erroneous application of the Laws of the Order by the Local Lodge or its Council or its officers, a member or officer who suffers injury or damage therefrom may present a written imputation therefrom against such Local Lodge, Council or officer, to the Local Lodge Recording Secretary. Immediately thereafter, the Local Lodge Recording Secretary shall forward such imputation to the Recording Secretary of the higher unit having jurisdiction over the Local Lodge. The Council of the higher unit shall determine upon the merit of the imputation as soon as possible after receipt of the imputation but not later than the next regularly scheduled Council meeting of said unit which follows receipt of the imputation.

Within ten (10) days from the date of an alleged erroneous application of the laws of the Order by a Grand Lodge or its Council or its officers, the lower ranking unit or the member or the officer who suffers injury or damage therefrom may present a written imputation against such a Grand Lodge or Grand Council or State Officer to the Local Lodge Recording Secretary to forward such imputation to the State Recording Secretary. When an individual files an imputation pursuant to Article 110, it shall be accompanied by a $150 filing fee. Upon receipt of the imputation, the State Recording Secretary shall immediately forward the same to the National Recording Secretary who shall present it to the Supreme Council. The Supreme Council shall determine upon the merit of the imputation and render a decision thereon. The decision of the Supreme Council shall be final.

The Grand and Supreme Council shall determine imputations of erroneous application of the laws of the Order following a regular hearing had thereon, at which hearing the report and advice of the State or National Orator must be read. Failure to appear before the Grand or Supreme Council by the parties in interest shall not invalidate the decision rendered.

If, upon inquiry caused to be made by the Grand or Supreme Council or from the result of the hearing, it develops that the erroneous application of the laws of the Order was the result of fraud, rather than of mistake or error, perpetrated by the officers or by the Council, then the officers implicated in the fraud shall be prosecuted by order of the Grand or Supreme Council by the State or National Orator before the Arbitration Commission of the ranking unit having jurisdiction in conformity with the Judicial Code of the Order.

(Art. 110 revised 8/14/2013) –cc

Such honorary officers shall not participate in the deliberations of the Grand and Supreme Council and shall not be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred to attend meetings.

The Council of each ranking unit of the Order shall determine the per diem to be paid to witnesses summoned to appear to give testimony before the Arbitration Commission of each respective unit in cases heard by such Commission.

The per diem in addition to traveling expenses shall be for the actual number of days necessarily spent in the fulfillment of the mission for the Order. Traveling expenses are to include expenses necessarily

The State and Special National Deputies are to receive traveling expenses and per diem whenever they undertake a mission by direction of the State or National President. The State Chaplain and National Chaplain, but not the Chaplain are to receive traveling expenses and per diem whenever they undertake a mission by direction of the State President or National President. ### MANNER OF VOTING

ART. 112. Oral or written motions are to be made and seconded by members in good standing having the right to vote. Before the identification card is issued to the Delegate of a particular Local Lodge or Grand Lodge, the credential must show that such Delegate is in good standing with the Local Lodge of which the Delegate is a member.

The State Recording Secretary shall not send the identification card to any State Delegate whose Local Lodge is not in good standing with the Grand Lodge.

The National Recording Secretary shall not send the identification card to any National Delegate whose Grand Lodge is in arrears with two or more quarterly payments of the Capita Tax and/or other assessments.

each Delegate, but may deliver such identification cards to each individual Delegate or to the higher ranking officer of the Local Lodge or of the Grand Lodge present to attend the Convention.

All credentials of Delegates sent to the State or National Recording Secretary by the Local Lodge or Grand Lodges subject to disciplinary measures imposed upon them depriving them of representation on the Convention, shall be considered null and void and of no effect. The State or National Recording Secretary is hereby forbidden to issue identification cards upon credentials forwarded by any such Local Lodge or Grand Lodge.

12. Amendment: This Agreement may be amended or modified from time to time by the Supreme Council of the Donor whenever necessary or advisable for the more convenient or efficient administration of this Trust or to enable the Trustees to carry out the purpose of this Trust more effectively, but no such amendment or modification shall alter the intention of the Donor that this Trust be operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals within the United States or any of its possessions, and in manner which shall make this Trust tax exempt under the provisions of Section 501 (c) (3) of the

Every amendment or modification of this Agreement shall be made in writing, shall be signed by two (2) officers of the Donor pursuant to authority of its Supreme Council and shall be delivered to each of the Trustees then in office.

by the Corporation against any costs and expenses, including counsel fees, reasonably incurred in connection with any civil, criminal, administrative or other claim, action, suit or proceeding in which they may become involved or with which they may be threatened, by reason of their being or having been a Director, officer or Executive Director of the Corporation or by reason of serving or having served any corporation in which the Corporation owns shares of capital stock or of which it is a creditor, any firm or any other organization as director, officer, employee, trustee, member or otherwise at the request of the Corporation, and against any payments in settlement of any such claim, action, suit or proceeding or in satisfaction of any related judgment, fine or penalty, except costs, expenses or payments in relation to any matter as to which they shall be finally adjudged derelict in the performance of their duties, or in relation to any matter as to which there has been no adjudication with respect to their performance of their duties unless the Corporation shall receive an opinion from independent counsel that the Director, officer or Executive Director has not so been derelict.
